RE: Spring Break Work Readiness for Student Summer Work

The Work Readiness classes/workshops scheduled for students who are first-time workers have been cancelled until further notice. The After-School Work Readiness trainings are on hold also, until further notice that is safe to gather together.

An online application process is being worked on at this time and the public will be informed when it is available and where to access it once it has been completed.

Also, look forward to some online Work Readiness training. Please be patient as we work through the COVID-19 pandemic.
