Motorsports referendum on Tuesday

The tribes will hold a General Council meeting at 7 p.m. on Monday, June 30 at the Agency Longhouse. The topic of discussion will be the motorsports referendum. The following day, Tuesday, July 1, the membership will vote on the referendum.

The motorsports project is proposed as an economic development project for the tribes. The park, once in operation, could generate $37 million in net annual revenue, according to a preliminary estimate. The revenue would be split between the tribes and its development partner, based on the percentage initially contributed by each party.

Tribal Council is pursuing ways to replace enterprise revenue that has fallen drastically over the past several years. None of the enterprises are contributing significantly the general fund, requiring unprecedented budget cuts.

For the motorsports development, the tribes would contribute land: The preferred site

Conceptual graphic of the proposed development.

is 900 acres in the North Miller Flat area. Lionshead Development, based in Florida, is the motorsports investment group that would like to partner with the tribes.

This would be the only such track serving the Northwest region. The park would take about five years to build. During construction, the project would create an estimated 425 jobs. Once in operation, the park would employ 200 people.

As with the previous two invalid motorsports referendums last year, a turnout of one-third of eligible tribal member voters is required for the July 1 vote to be valid. There are about 3,200 eligible voters.

There will be a motorsports information booth at Pi-Ume-Sha this weekend, hosted by Warm Springs Ventures. Jeff Anspach, chief executive officer of Ventures, put together an information sheet on the proposal, addressing some comments he has heard about the proposal.

The first statement is a misconception or myth, followed by the reality of the case:

Myth: This will be the same as the Cascade Locks effort: Spending millions and getting nothing back.

Reality: We don't have millions to spend anymore.

Mild, sunny weekend for Pi-Ume-Sha

The latest forecast for this weekend calls for perfect powwow weather.

Highs are expected to be in the mid- to high 70s, night-time lows around 50. Skies will be partly cloudy with no rain in the forecast.

Pi-Ume-Sha this year will feature the first-ever Pro-Am Boxing show at the Community Center. Warm Springs Nation Boxing is hosting the event, starting at 3 p.m. this Saturday, June 28.

There will be one Professional welterweight fight, and one Pro heavyweight bout, plus 15 amateur matches featuring Warm Springs and other Northwest fighters. (See page 12 for details).

159 years ago

This year will be the Forty-Fifth Annual Pi-Ume-Sha Treaty Days, starting Friday, June 27, and running through Sunday.

Pi-Ume-Sha this year has the interesting theme of "the History of the Whiplash."

The powwow commemorates the signing of the Treaty of 1855, signed 159 years ago this month.

The Fourteenth Annual Pi-Ume-Sha Health Fair is this Wednesday, June 25, at the Community Center, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

This Thursday, June 26, will see the opening of the new exhibit at the Museum at Warm Springs. The grand opening for the exhibit, Celebrating Native American Youth: Today's Youth, Tomorrow's Leaders, is at 5:30.

The first Pi-Ume-Sha Grand Entry will be this Friday evening, June 27. The Traditional Dress Parade is on Saturday morning. Line-up, at 10 a.m., in front of the old elementary school, parade starting at 11.

Grand Entries on Saturday are at 1 and 7 p.m., and on Sunday at 2 p.m. Traditional dance contests are through the weekend.

Stick games, more

The Warm Springs Recreation Department will host the 2014 Pi-Ume-Sha Run on Saturday, June 28, starting at the community center. Registration will start at 8 a.m., and the run or walks start at 9.

The stick games are held at the shelter by the powwow grounds. Pi-Ume-Sha features softball, golf, the rodeo and endurance race, a fun run/walk, and more. The rodeo begins at 1 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Pi-Ume-Sha Treaty Days began in the late 1960s. While commemorating the signing of the treaty, Pi-Ume-Sha also traditionally honors the veterans and service men and women of the Armed Forces. If you have questions, you call Cassie Katchi at the clinic. (More on Pi-Ume-Sha on pages 6 and 12.)

Council okays off-reservation elk season

Tribal Council last week directed to the Fish and Wildlife Committee to develop an off-reservation elk hunting season.

Councilman Carlos Smith said the off-reservation elk season is needed to relieve some of the hunting pressure on-reservation.

For the past two years the tribes have conducted off-reservation seasons for deer, during the month of October. Council agreed to adopt a similar program this year for elk.

Natural Resources conducted an elk survey on the reservation in December, but the results were inconclusive. Wildlife biologist Andrea Karoglanian said the December survey found only 82 elk, not enough to make a population projection. The survey will be done again this fall, she said.

Elk and deer populations on the reservation have gone down in recent years. The tribal member population goes up every year, so there are more hunters every year, leading to potential over-hunting.

For the deer seasons, the tribes issued off-reservation permits that hunters carried with state permits.

There is some disagreement between the tribes and the state as to the permitting process for the off-reservation tribal hunts. A similar disagreement came up earlier this year, in regard to fishing for smelt off reservation.

For off-reservation hunting and fishing rights, the tribes rely on the Treaty of 1855, which is higher legal authority than state law.

Members have off-reservation rights on the Ceded Lands, the large area of land the tribes ceded during the Treaty of 1855. The hunting and fishing rights are at all usual and accustomed places across the Ceded Lands, which is an estimated 10 million acres.

Gearing up for fall UAV conference at KNT

The Association of Unmanned Vehicle Systems International is getting ready for the upcoming conference at Kah-Nee-Ta.

The association's Cascade Chapter is accepting registration, and has an agenda for the Oct. 1-2 conference and job fair.

The Association of Unmanned Vehicle Systems International (AUVSI) is the largest organization devoted exclusively to advancing the use of unmanned aerial systems (UAS).

They chose to hold the regional conference on the reservation, which is an FAA approved testing area for unmanned systems. The second day of the conference will feature a job fair featuring opportunities in the fast-growing UAS industry.

Here are some of the other agenda items:

- Integrating UAS into the national airspace, presented by David Morton from FAA Office of UAS Integration.
- The role of technology in integrating UAS into the national air space.
- The role of test ranges in developing the UAS industry.
- Privacy concerns and potential regulations affecting UAS.
- UAS for large scale precision agriculture.
- What does 'Twenty-First Century aerospace look like? (keynote address.)

The second day of the conference will include:

Community approach to a longtime problem

Methamphetamine first showed up in Warm Springs in large quantities in the 1980s. Today, over three decades later, the problem remains a major source of crime and pain on the reservation.

Parole and Probation sees this on a daily basis. “The community has to make a united stand against it,” Leona Ike, director of Parole and Probation, was saying last week. “We’re at a point now where we have to decide whether we want to take control of this or not.”

The opening of the new school in the fall, she said, can serve as inspiration for a new approach to ridding the reservation of meth. “It will take everyone working together, but it has to start with the family.”

Tribal Court, police, Children’s Protective Services, Community Counseling, IHS and other programs spend much of their resources reacting to specific cases as they come up. Prevention is great for stopping young people from ever using the drug. The programs are helpful, Leona said, “But success in ridding our community of drugs and violence resides on the shoulders of our tribal people and community.”

In the community-wide approach, she said, the first step is for the families to take a stance of zero tolerance against the drug. If you think a family member in your household is using meth, then tell someone: the police, Community Counseling, or Parole and Probation.

“That is not a negative thing,” Leona said. “What you’re doing is helping and protecting the person. Feel free to contact us.”

Odessa Jones-Anderson is the adult probation officer at Parole and Probation, and Flossie Wolfe is community service and program coordinator. They estimate that half of the cases they handle are meth related.

They estimate that between 150 to 200 people in the community are permanently effected by meth, meaning they will never be the same as they were before taking the drug.

Both of the murders that happened on the reservation in 2012 were meth related. Two of those convicted were sentenced to life, and the third to 25 years.

There is an increase in federal felony prosecution of meth possession, and domestic violence cases from the reservation, Odessa said. Once a person is in federal prison, she said, there is no parole. A felony conviction remains on the person’s record, prohibiting that person from carrying a firearm, so there is no more hunting.

The eldest person who ever tested positive for meth on the reservation was 66 years old, Leona said. The youngest was 10 (not including infants who were born with the drug in their system).

“ We can still be a healthy and strong community that honors our tribal history and the hopes of our past elders.”

A parent was using the drug with the 10-year-old, she said.

The longest a person took for meth detox in the jail was 18 days. The person later admitted to having swallowed a balloon of meth, which slowly seeped out. The person was lucky because that is often fatal.

In their jobs the Parole and Probation staff often deal with people as they are coming off the drug. Symptoms are agitation, paranoia, extreme mood swings. The person might make involuntary body movements, and not be able to concentrate, forgetting things that just happened or were just said. “Sometimes they can’t regulate their body temperature,” Odessa said.

The social damage can be severe. In the end, she said, “This can tear down your family.”

Tradition is the approach that Parole and Probation takes toward helping people get off of meth. The approach is encouraging and empowering to the afflicted person.

“Our service is based on integrity, hope and compassion,” Leona was saying. “We never lose hope for our community and our people.” The reservation may stricken with unemployment and poverty “but we can still be a healthy and strong community that honors our tribal history and the hopes of our past elders.”

She said that recommending jail time is the hardest part of her job. “But our objective is to prevent more serious crimes, and to get the defendant into recovery.”

You can reach Parole and Probation at 541-553-3293. The department offers free drug testing for adults. A concerned parent can bring a child in and have the child tested.

Rose Festival Parade

Gordon Scott Jr. at Floral Parade.

Thank you to Jim Manion, who suggested we submit an application to participate. I would like to acknowledge and thank the enterprises that helped make this possible:

Warm Springs Gaming, Power and Water Enterprises, and Warm Springs Composite Products.

Thank you to those who assisted from beginning to end: Norma Heath, Emily Yazzie, Marie Smith and family. And we can't forget Jonathan Smith, who so graciously accepted the task of being our scout. He was there getting participants and staff to where they needed to be throughout the day.

Thank you to the Tribal Council staff who worked behind the scenes: Becky Picard, Stevie Hicks and Jayleen Main. The staff and volunteers, prior to the parade, made a couple trips through the parade route and other areas the participants would be involved with.

The horses, on loan from Warm Springs Chief Delvis Heath, were housed at the Clark County Fairgrounds. Those participating: Rafael Queahpama, Mallory Smith of the Miss Warm Springs Court, Gordon Scott Jr., and Paiute Chief Joe Moses.

Our day started at 4 a.m.—preparing, and transporting everyone to the parade site. The volunteers assisted the participants with dressing, holding or walking their horses, and preparing the flower arrangements.

The participants had to be ready to get in line by 7:30 a.m., went through the judging and waited in line. Then about 10:30 a.m. they begin their journey through the busy streets of Portland.

Meanwhile, off we went to the end of the parade site, waited there for the participants to finish, assisted with undressing their horses, packing and loading up and heading out.

The riders and horses received a ribbon for second place in the category: Native or National Costume, Group.

Throughout the parade, the participants said people would call out to them, by name or yell, "Warm Springs!"

Thanks to the participants who represented the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs.

Fishing matter

A letter in a recent edition of the Spilyay stated that "fishing is open to tribal members at Sherars Bridge until mid-July."

Fishing is actually open year round for tribal members. What can be kept varies depending on the time of year.

In the spring, to protect wild spring chinook, only hatchery fish may be kept during certain periods. This year that is April 14 to July 15.

This may vary slightly year to year as the Branch of Natural Resources, the Fish and Wildlife Committee and Tribal Council adjust the fishery to current conditions.

After the spring run has mostly passed Sherars, all salmon may be kept except for sockeye. This year that is July 16 until March 31 of 2015.

The fall chinook run is an entirely wild run in the Deschutes, although there is a fair number of stray hatchery fall salmon that wander into the Deschutes below Sherars Falls.

There has not been a need to introduce hatchery fall chinook salmon, as the run sustains itself, a real success story in the Pacific Northwest.

The remainder of the Deschutes is open April 14 through July 15 to protect migrating spring chinook and spawning fall chinook.

For details on the regulations, see Tribal Council resolution no. 11,620, passed in May of 2012.

Mark Manion, harvest biologist, Branch of Natural Resources.

Salmon bake

Thank you to the many people who supported our annual Salmon Bake on May 31 on the Central Oregon Community College Bend Campus.

Thank you to Natural Resources for donating the salmon to be served, and for Geraldine Jim and her family for cooking it and patiently answering all questions!

Thank you to Jefferson Greene, James Halliday, Richard Tewee, Joseph Smith and Gary Smith for honoring us with a Blessing of the Grounds Ceremony the day before. It was a very beautiful day and we were honored with your presence and prayers.

We are proud of our relationship with the people of Warm Springs and hope that this may continue for many generations.

Thank you.

Gina Ricketts, COCC Native American Program Coordinator, the First Nations Student Union and the COCC Native American Program.

Concerns

The current tribal referendum seems too familiar as our tribe is considering a massive footprint on our sacred land.

There isn't a dollar amount associated with this referendum, that is comparable to the referendum for the casino at the Gorge. The Twenty-Sixth Tribal Council took strong action to put a stop to the runaway train of expenditures associated with the Gorge casino. We have nothing to show for the $32 million spent on that referendum.

As a business owner, I was required to provide a business plan along with projected financial statements prior to receiving my business loan. That is the basic rules for everyone involved with making such investments. We have not been provided with a business plan or financial statements to base our decision.

I am very much concerned about going over the cliff with massive debt associated with this Motorsports Park referendum. Will some of us even show up to vote? Probably not.

Honor Student graduates

Hello family, friends and relatives,

Jackie Poitra graduated on May 25, 2014, with Honors from Turtle Mountain Community High School.

Jackie is the daughter of Wilona Poitra of Warm Springs, and Flynn Wetchie of Yakima. Maternal grandparents are Peggy Williams and Lester Poitra, and maternal grandmother is Mary Kay (Yakima).

Jackie moved to Belcourt, North Dakota in 2010 with her mother. Jackie attended Turtle Mountain community High School in Belcourt. She sacrificed a social life to study. This is reflected by being on the Presidential Honor Roll.

Jackie was named Best of Class for 2013 by the Governor of North Dakota, and a member of the National Honor Society.

George and Debbie Williams, along with their son Kevin, traveled to Jackie's graduation in May. George was a guest speaker during the reception. He encouraged Jackie and her cousin Dalton to further their education.

Dangerous Situation

Dry Creek Landfill staff has recently noticed an increase in the amount of ammunition being thrown away at the landfill.

The ammunition pictured at right was found in the pit area of the landfill. The practice is very dangerous for both landfill staff and other individuals who may be out at the landfill.

When equipment runs over the firing mechanism of the ammunition, it goes off. This could seriously injure or kill people who are at the landfill.

This could also damage equipment.

People also occasionally put ammunition in the ceremonial burn pit, which is also dangerous because once the ammunition heats up it goes off.

If people need to dispose of ammunition, please bring it to the landfill office or call 541-553-3163 or 541-553-4943 to make arrangements for pickup.

We will take it and dispose of it in a manner that is safe for everyone.

On Heritage Night with Shoni and the Dream

by Patti Tanewasha
Spilyay Tymoo

Shoni Schimmel had a dream to play in the WNBA and now plays for the Atlanta Dream. If there is one thing to remember, it's that it all started with a dream. Shoni's Dream.

Still early in her first WNBA season, here is how Shoni's dream is shaping up.

A Friday night, the final score was Atlanta Dream 80-Seattle Storm 69. Shoni had two points; four rebounds and one assist. After her first several WNBA games, Schimmel had the most assists in the league.

A Dream game in late May was the first in a series of Dream Heritage Fridays. The Atlanta Dream will be hosting heritage nights on Fridays throughout the season on their home court, celebrating diverse team members and fans.

May 30 was Native American Heritage night, and it was a success. Some 2,000 lucky fans received a turquoise "Schimmel #23" bracelet that was inspired by jewelry she wore during the 2014 WNBA draft.

Looking into the crowd you could see many Natives from around the region, and others that had traveled from around the country to watch the "Umatilla Thrilla" in action.

Over 100 tribal members of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians from North Carolina were present. They had loaded up their own vehicles to drive all the way to Atlanta.

They had purchased tickets during a Cherokee Central Schools fundraiser.

During the half-time show,

the Red Road Dance Group and drum group Elk Soldier put on an amazing performance. The show was filled with honor songs and beautiful presented various American Indian dance categories from the powwow circuit.

This was the second time they had all performed together, the last time was in early for Shoni Schimmel's senior night. That was the Louisville Cardinals Native American Heritage night, with 22,163 people present, and Native people from 40 states were present.

I had the opportunity to speak with Glenn Drapeau, a member of the Ihanktonwan Nokota (Yankton Sioux), from Lake Andes, South Dakota, one of the singers from the Elk Soldier Drum group. We spoke at an Atlanta Dream game last month:

How does it feel to perform for the second time for Shoni, but this time for her professional career?

Glenn: Shoni is our champion. She is a respected leader for our young people, and she has a beautiful way of representing our people. It's a beautiful thing to see that. Everybody loves her. She has a huge leadership role and accepted it, she has fulfilled that role and responsibility well.

Shoni has proven you can take the girl from the rez, but you can't take the rez out of the girl.

After the game was over, I was able to catch up with Shoni.

I asked her, So what did you think of Native American Heritage Night?

Shoni: It's awesome, especially to see the Natives out here. Everybody is crazy about it, and loving it. I feel very special to have Native American Heritage Night.

What did you think about the "Shoni Schimmel" bracelets?

Shoni: It was surprising that they actually made them. They just came out, and my parents, plus everyone back home, are calling to ask, "Hey could you get us some Shoni bracelets?" It's a big hit, especially here tonight, because everybody here are the only ones to get them.

How was the transition from being one of the few female Native athletes at a college level to playing in the WNBA?

Shoni: It really hasn't hit me yet. I still feel like a college kid, and I'm still trying to adjust. It's not a bad thing—having free time during the day and not worrying about school. Now it's like you get to relax it feels like, "Wow!"

You grew up playing, "rez-ball," and went onto playing college ball. Now you're playing in the WNBA. How has the competition changed?

Shoni: "These women are huge—tougher, faster, and smarter—regardless of who you play, everybody's going to come to play that night. There's no easy game.

This year in the WNBA draft you were in the first round, and the number 8 pick for the Atlanta Dream. Were you hoping to go to Seattle?

Shoni: It would've been nice, just to be able to be at home. But at the same time this is an opportunity. Atlanta has been a great fit for me, and Coach Cooper knows what he's doing. I trust him. I'm happy I came here.

How did it feel to be one of the first female Native American to be selected the first round of the WNBA draft?

Shoni: It's special. Like you said, not many have had that opportunity. Being one of the first is special.

What would be any advice you'd give to Native Youth today?

Shoni: Go out there and live your dreams! Regardless of what it may be—embrace it and don't let anything hold you back.

Shoni Schimmel, and along with the many other Native college athletes, are setting the bar for success. So far for Shoni the sky is the limit. She's showing many of our young people today that you can leave the rez, graduate from college, and become successful.

Shoni is proving to be a nice draw for teams with close proximity to American Indians. Once drafted by the Atlanta Dream for her rookie year, ticket sales for the away games in Phoenix and Seattle ticket sales are nearly sold out. Her "Schimmel 23" Dream jersey sold out. Many that attended the Dream game in Seattle were hoping to purchase her jersey, but it wasn't in stock.

Tribes update Columbia Basin Restoration Plan

The Columbia River Inter-Tribal Fish Commission and its member tribes have completed the first update to their comprehensive fisheries restoration plan.

CRITFC and its member tribes—Warm Springs, Yakama, Umatilla and Nez Perce—have updated the W'y-Kan-Ush-Mi Wa-Kish-W'it, or Spirit of the Salmon Plan.

The update addresses issues and opportunities that have arisen since the original plan was written almost 20 years ago. The update describes the progress and needed modifications to the institutional and technical recommendations in the original plan.

It also identifies and addresses several new challenges and recommendations 18 years into the 25-year plan. Issues such as climate change, unmanaged predation and water quality are a few of the new issues addressed in the updated plan.

"With this update, Wy-Kan-Ush-Mi Wa-Kish-W'it is once again the most comprehensive and holistic fish restoration plan in the Columbia Basin," said Paul Lumley, CRITFC executive director.

"This updated plan reflects the Columbia's changing landscape and the new challenges and opportunities that have presented themselves over the past 20 years. Those challenges can no longer be ignored."

The Spirit of the Salmon Plan was originally developed in 1995 to provide a framework for restoring anadromous fish such as salmon and lamprey as well as sturgeon in upriver areas above Bonneville Dam. The plan takes a gravel-to-gravel management approach that corresponds to the migratory range of these fish and extends throughout the Columbia River Basin wherever activities occur that directly affect them.

The updated Spirit of the Salmon Plan is available online at plan.critfc.org. The online plan is fully searchable and includes the complete 2014 supplement, the original 1995 plan, the 2004 subbasin management plans as well as hundreds of links to related materials.

them in at the library.

Just for turning in a filled out book slip, you'll be eligible to receive a prize (limit one prize per youth). Those who turn in the most book slips

Resolution of Tribal Council

Gaming

Whereas on March 17, 2014 Tribal Council received a written and oral report from Ken Many Wounds of Hunkpapa Consulting (“Many Wounds Report”) regarding the Warm Springs Gaming Commission (“WSGC”); and,

Whereas the Many Wounds Report contained several specific recommendations for how to improve the operations of the Warm Springs Gaming Commission while significantly reducing the expense of WSGC’s operations; and,

Whereas at the conclusion of the Ken Many Wounds March 17, 2014 report, Tribal Council voted by motion to approve and implement the recommendations set out in the Many Wounds Report; and,

Whereas implementation of some of the Many Wounds Report’s recommendations require modifications to the tribal Gaming Ordinance currently in effect (WSTC Chapter 260, Ordinance No. 76, last amended by Resolution No. 10,536 on July 26, 2005 and approved by the National Indian Gaming Commission on December 27, 2005) “Gaming Ordinance”, while other recommendations contained in the Many Wounds Report can be implemented by Tribal Council directives to WSGC commissioners, the Executive Director and staff; and,

Whereas Tribal Council Resolution No. 11, 709 adopted on December 4, 2012 amended the Gaming Ordinance but the amendments were never effective because the amended ordinance was never approved by the National Indian Gaming Commission as required by the terms of Resolution No. 11,709 and by the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act (25 U.S.C. Section 2710(c), accordingly Resolution No. 11,709 should be rescinded; and,

Whereas Tribal Council Resolution No. 11,710 adopted on December 3, 2012 reappointed two gaming commissioners whose terms had expired and extended the existing term of a third gaming commissioner, as well as set the commissioners compensation at $56,500 annually, based on the terms of the amended gaming ordinance approved by Tribal Council Resolution No. 11,709, which actions are in part inconsistent with the Many Wounds Report recommendations and should be modified as follows: Redo Job descriptions for Executive Director for Gaming Regulatory, update job title, and job descriptions for the Regulatory Authority. Rename the Commissioners to Tribal Gaming Regulatory Authority, with 24 meetings per year and six special meetings per year with stipend of $100 for half day (4 hours) and $200 full day (8 hours) amending the current Resolution that quotes the salary rates to new stipend rate; and,

Whereas, on October 26, 2012, the Tribal Council received a report from Egghart CPA’s (“Egghart Report”)regarding the operations of the Warm Springs Gaming Commission, which report contained specific recommendations for improving the efficiency and reducing the cost of the WSGC; and,

Whereas Many of the Egghart Report recommendations are the same as those of the Many Wounds Report, which Tribal Council believes further justifies approval and implementation of the Many Wounds and Egghart reports recommendations; and,

Whereas both the Many Wounds Report and the Egghart Report recommend that the Gaming Ordinance be amended and updated to comply with new National Indian Gaming Commission regulations adopted on February 25, 2013 regarding licensing and background investigations, and Tribal Council wishes to adopt and implement these recommendations of the Many Wounds and Egghart reports; and,

Whereas the Egghart Report also recommended a change in Section 10.A.3 of the 2011 Amended Warm Springs/Oregon Class III Gaming Compact (“Compact”) to remove language prohibiting WSGC surveillance operators from observing the drop process, which is a recommendation the Tribal Council now wishes to adopt; now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the Twenty-Sixth Tribal Council of the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon, pursuant to Article V, Section 1

(l)and (u), of the Tribal Constitution and By-Laws, that the Tribal Council hereby adopts and implements the recommendations of the Many Wounds Report, previously approved by Tribal Council motion on March 17, 2014, as well as the recommendations of the Egghart Report, that require amendments to the Gaming Ordinance through adoption of the Track Changes language set out in Gaming Ordinance attached as Exhibit A to this Resolution; and,

Be it further resolved by the Tribal Council that the WSGC, the WSGC Executive Director and the WSGC staff are hereby directed to implement the following recommendations in the Many Wounds Report adopted by Tribal Council motion on March 17, 2014, and attached as Exhibit B to this Resolution, as well as the recommendation of the Egghart Report, which are hereby adopted by this Resolution:

1. Change the name from “Warm Springs Gaming Commission” to “Warm Springs Tribal Gaming Regulatory Authority.”
2. Update and revise the job descriptions of the following positions as recommended in the Many Wounds Report: Gaming Commissioner, Executive Director, Inspector, Internal Audit Supervisor, Internal Auditor, Financial Inspector, Surveillance Manager, Surveillance Supervisor, and Surveillance Observer.
3. Update and revise the WSGC Organizational Chart as recommended in the Many Wounds Report.
4. Revise and submit to Tribal Council a new 2014 WSGC budget reflecting the changes implemented by this Resolution, the amendments to the Gaming Ordinance adopted by this Resolution, and include justifications and explanations recommended in the Many Wounds Report.
5. Revise and submit to Tribal Council a new 2014 Surveillance Budget including the justifications and explanations recommended in the Many Wounds Report.

6. Revise and update the WSGC Regulations, Policies and Procedures as recommended in the Many Wounds Report; and,

Be it further resolved that the Tribe shall propose to the State a Compact amendment, as recommended by the Egghart Report, eliminating the following language in Section 10.A.3 of the Compact: “Personnel designated as surveillance operators shall not fulfill this function on behalf of the Tribal Gaming Commission”; and,

Be it further resolved that Tribal Council Resolution No.

11,709 approved December 4, 2012 (amending the Gaming Ordinance) is hereby repealed and rescinded; and,

Be it further resolved that Tribal Council Resolution No.11,710 approved December 3, 2012 (re-appointing and extending the terms of gaming commissioners and setting annual salaries of $56,500) is hereby superseded and amended to the extent it is inconsistent with the terms and directives of this resolution and the amendments to the Gaming Ordinance enacted by this resolution. Resolutions of Tribal Council

Museum grant

Whereas the preservation and perpetuation of the history of the Confederated Tribes is of central importance to the Tribes; and,

Whereas the Confederated Tribes originally chartered the Middle Oregon Indian Historical Society in 1974 by Resolution No. 4084 to plan for and develop a Tribal museum and oversee the collection of Tribal artifacts; and,

Whereas that Charter was subsequently amended by Resolution No. 4422 in 1974 and Resolution No. 7741 in 1987; and The Charter for The Museum At Warm Springs, a subordinate organization of the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon, was adopted on June 30, 1992, and The Museum At Warm Springs began operations in March, 1993; and,

Whereas the Tribal Council contributes significant annual support for The Museum’s General Operations; and The Museum earns additional General Operations revenue through admissions, memberships, donations, fund raising events and supports exhibitions and educational programs through grant awards and sponsorships; and,

Whereas the Museum has been open to the public for 21 years and its mechanical systems are requiring considerable resources for repairs in order to continue to maintain the heating, cooling, and humidity levels necessary to preserve The Museum’s material and archival Collections; and,

Whereas the original Shitike Creek water supply system for the HVAC system is no longer a viable water source and The Museum has been forced to use municipal water to operate the HVAC system; and the excessive water use is placing a burden on Tribal resources; and,

Whereas improvements to the mechanical systems and solution of the water issue will relieve a significant strain on Tribal resources and advance the Museum At Warm Springs Master Plan to prepare for the future; now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the Twenty-Sixth Tribal Council of the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon pursuant to the Tribal Constitution and By-Laws, Article V, Section 1 (l) and (o) declares that The Museum At Warm Springs Master Plan to prepare for the future is a priority and hereby approves the preparation and submission of a grant application, by The Museum to the Spirit Mountain Community Fund Tribal Grant Program. (Resolution no. 11,859)

ICWA

Whereas the Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA), 25 U.S.C. § 1903(4), defines an “Indian child” as “any unmarried person who is under age eighteen and is either (a) a member of an Indian tribe or (b) is eligible for membership in an Indian tribe and is the biological child of a member of an Indian tribe”; and,

Whereas the Tribal Council is aware that some state courts have questioned whether children who are not eligible for automatic enrollment under Article III, Section 2, of the Tribal Constitution and By-Laws, and Warm Springs Tribal Code (WSTC) 120.300, but who are eligible for enrollment by adoption under Article III, Section 3, of the Tribal Constitution and WSTC 120.800, are “eligible for membership” in the Tribe under ICWA if they don’t currently meet all of the requirements for adoption; and,

Whereas the Tribe has the exclusive authority to determine who is eligible for membership in the Tribe, and the Tribal Council views children who meet the blood quantum and descendent requirements for enrollment by adoption as eligible for enrollment under ICWA because the child may one day become a member of the Tribe if the child meets the other requirements for enrollment by adoption; and,

Whereas the Tribal Council believes it is necessary to add a provision to the Warm Springs Tribal Code to make it clear that the Tribe views these children as eligible for enrollment under ICWA; now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the Twenty-Sixth Tribal Council of the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon, pursuant to Article III and Article V, Section 1(l) and (u), of the Tribal Constitution and By-Laws, that the Tribal Council hereby amends WSTC 360.500 as follows (amendment represented by additional underlined text):

Applicability of Indian Child Welfare Act. The provisions of the Indian Child Welfare Act, 25 U.S.C. § 1901, et seq., apply to certain state court child custody proceedings involving juveniles who are enrolled or eligible for enrollment in the Warm Springs Tribes. A juvenile who has the blood quantum necessary for automatic enrollment or enrollment by adoption under Article III of the Warm Springs Constitution (as amended) and who has a biological parent who is enrolled in the Warm Springs Tribes is eligible for enrollment for the purposes of the application of the Indian Child Welfare Act. Under the jurisdictional provisions of the Indian Child Welfare Act, 25 U.S.C. § 1911, the Warm Springs Tribes may intervene in or seek to transfer jurisdiction of applicable state court child custody proceedings; and,

Be it further resolved by the Tribal Council that the amendment to WSTC 360.500 set forth above are effective immediately. (Resolution no. 11,866)

Sex offender registration

Whereas, Per Resolution No. 10,774, the Tribe elected to participate as a sex offender registration jurisdiction under Title I of the Adam Walsh Child Protection and Safety Act of 2006 (“Adam Walsh Act”), which requires registration jurisdictions to create and implement a sex offender registration and notification program that meets the requirements contained in Title I of the Adam Walsh Act; and,

Whereas, As part of the Tribe’s effort to create and implement a sex offender registration and notification program that is compliant with Title I of the Adam Walsh Act, the Warm Springs Tribal Council approved Ordinance 91, codified as Chapter 380 of the Warm Springs Tribal Code (“WSTC”), on April 1, 2010; and,

Whereas, The Tribal Council believes that in order to maintain and enhance the Tribe’s sex offender notification and registration program, and to improve public safety on the reservation with respect to certain sex offenders, it is necessary to amend WSTC Chapter 380 to include additional provisions regarding check-in requirements for homeless offenders and to include a criminal offense prohibiting offenders convicted of a sex offense involving a child under the age of fourteen (14) from conducting certain activities on or near places frequented by minors; now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the Twenty-Sixth Tribal Council of the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon, pursuant to Article V, Section 1(i), (l), and (u), of the Tribal Constitution and By-Laws, that the Tribal Council hereby amends WSTC Chapter 380 to include the following criminal offense regarding violation of child safety zone restrictions:

380.615 - Violation of Child Safety Zone Restrictions. A person is guilty of an offense subject to penalties in accordance with WSTC 380.600 or WSTC 380.605 if that person was convicted of a sex offense involving a child under the age of fourteen (14) and is subject to the registration requirements in this Chapter, and does one or more of the following:

(1) Loiters or parks a vehicle within 500 feet of a school, playground, public swimming pool, skate park, baseball field, child care facility, child care provider, youth center, or any other location accessible to the public that is established or designated specifically for the use and enjoyment of minors, while minors are present, unless the person has legal and physical custody of his or her children and is dropping off or picking up his or her children from school or a child care facility or provider or is attending a school function with his or her children;

(2) Attends an event held primarily for minors where minors are in attendance unless the person has legal and physical custody of his or her children and is attending the event with his or her children;

(3) Has contact with a child care facility or provider during its hours of operation unless the person has legal and physical custody of his or her children and is dropping off or picking up his or her children from the facility or provider; or

(4) After May 24, 2014, establishes and maintains a residence within 500 feet of a school, playground, public swimming pool, skate park, baseball field, child care facility, child care provider, youth center, or any other location accessible to the public that is established or designated specifically for the use and enjoyment of minors and is commonly used by minors; and,

Be it further resolved by the Tribal Council that the Tribal Council hereby amends WSTC 380.010 to include the following definition of “homeless” as subsection (8), and to renumber the existing subsections accordingly:

(8) “Homeless” means lacking a fixed, regular, and adequate nighttime residence; living in a publicly or privately operated shelter designated to provide temporary living arrangements; or having a primary nighttime residence that is a public or private place not designed for or ordinarily used as a regular sleeping accommodation for human beings, including, but not limited to, a car, park, abandoned building, bus or train station, airport, or camping ground; and,

Be it further resolved by the Tribal Council that the Tribal Council hereby amends WSTC 380.315(1) as follows (addition in bold):

(1) Jurisdiction of Residency. All sex offenders required to register with the Tribe must immediately appear in person before the Tribal Registry Administrator to update any change to their name, residence (including termination of residency), employment, or school attendance. All sex offenders required to register with the Tribe shall immediately inform the Tribal Registry Administrator via phone or in-person appearance of any changes to their temporary lodging information (when a Tier 3 Sex Offender will be absent from his or her residence for 24 hours or more, or when a Tier 1 Sex Offender or Tier 2 Sex Offender will be absent from his or her residence for 7 days or more), international travel plans, vehicle information, email addresses, telephone numbers, Instant Messaging addresses, and any other designation used in Internet communications, postings, or telephone communications. In the event of a change in temporary lodging, the sex offender and the Tribal Registry Administrator shall immediately notify the jurisdiction in which the sex offender will be temporarily staying. A sex offender who becomes homeless and is required to register with the Tribe under this Chapter must appear in person before the Tribal Registry Administrator every thirty (30) days for the duration of the sex offender’s homelessness; and,

Be it further resolved by the Tribal Council that amendments to WSTC Chapter 380 set forth herein shall be effective on May 24, 2014. (Resolution no. 11,858)

Tax matter

Whereas the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon (“Tribe” or “CTWS”) is a federally recognized tribe; and,

Whereas the Tribe is the sovereign authority on the Warm Springs Reservation and CTWS trust lands and participates in or directly provides all governmental services on the Warm Springs Reservation and on CTWS trust lands; and,

Whereas on November 26, 2012, pursuant to Tribal Council Resolution 11,692, the Tribal Council re-activated the Tribal Tax Commission authorized by WSTC Section 700.100; and,

Whereas the Tax Commission was directed to pursue certain tax agreements with the State of Oregon; and,

Whereas, On July 30, 2013, the United States Ninth Circuit Court issued a decision in Confederated Tribes of the Chehalis Reservation v. Thurston County Board of Equalization (Chehalis case) that clarified that federal law at 25 USC section 465 expressly preempts state and local taxes on permanent improvements located on tribal lands held in trust by the United States, regardless of ownership of the permanent improvements; and,

Whereas the Chehalis case is a final decision and is controlling law in the State of Oregon, however the Oregon Department of Revenue has failed to issue clarifying guidance regarding implementation of the Chehalis ruling, thus continuing the uncertainty regarding tax liability for potential investors in Indian country; and,

Whereas the Tribe is pursuing certain economic development activities, including but not limited to, economic development activities associated with the Federal Aviation Administration’s (FAA) selection of test sites for unmanned aircraft system (UAS) research, including the Warm Springs Reservation as a test range within the Pan Pacific UAS Test Range Complex; and,

Whereas Tribal economic development activities are necessary to provide governmental revenues critical for advancing and sustaining the welfare of the CTWS membership and Warm Springs Reservation; and,

Whereas in the next three years the Warm Springs UAS test site has the potential to create up to 70 direct jobs and up to $19 million in new economic impact for the region and to support up to 450 new jobs and $95 million in new economic impact statewide; and,

Whereas, uncertainty as to state and local tax treatment of outside investment will discourage investment in the Warm Springs UAS test site which is the focal point for the region’s economic development efforts in this area; and,

Whereas, in light of the FAA program’s timeline, the effectiveness of the Warm Springs UAS test site to attract new industry investment onto the Reservation and in the region is time-sensitive; and,

Whereas it is critical that the taxing authority of the state on the Reservation be clarified as soon as possible to timely attract high value investment onto the Reservation and by extension in the region; and,

Whereas the Tribe supports state legislative and administrative efforts to implement the Chehalis case ruling and supports other shorter and longer term efforts to address tax uncertainty in Indian country; now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the Twenty-Sixth Tribal Council of the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon, pursuant to Article V, Section 1(a), (l) and (u) of the Tribal Constitution and By-Laws, that the Tribal Council hereby supports state and tribal legislative and regulatory efforts to implement the Chehalis case ruling and directs the Tribal Tax Commission to form a working group (“Working Group”) to coordinate with the Tax Commission and Tribal Council to:

1. Support state and tribal legislative and regulatory efforts to implement the Chehalis case ruling; and,
2. Pursue other state and local efforts to create near-term clarity on taxing authority on Tribal lands in order to advance critical Tribal economic development and public service goals and needs; and,
3. Develop a CTWS property tax code recommendation for the Tribal Council; and,

Be it further resolved by the Tribal Council that the Tax Commission and Working Group provide periodic updates to the Tribal Council regarding progress in addressing these tax and taxation initiatives. (Resolution no. 11,867.)

W.S. Nation Boxing hosting Pro-Am show

Warm Springs Nation Boxing will host Pi-Ume-Sha 2014 Boxing at 3 p.m. this Saturday, June 28.

This will be the first Pro-Am boxing show at the Warm Springs Community Center.

The hope is that this can be the first of many cards of its kind in the Central Oregon region.

Headlining the card will be long time Northwest stalwart Osvaldo “Waldo” Rojas, of Portland, taking on Ryan Phillips of Toppenish.

This will be a six round welterweight match-up.

Rojas has been a pro since 2005, and has built a reputation in the Pacific Northwest as a tenacious, well-skilled fighter with a big heart.

“Phillips is a tough, rangy fighter with experience in both boxing and MMA,” according to the preview on the website: cyberboxingzone.com.

Heavyweights

In the co-main event, undefeated heavyweight Juan Esquivel is expected to see action, although an opponent has not been locked down yet. Esquivel has scored all three of his professional wins by knockout.

Fifteen amateur bouts featuring fighters from all over the Northwest, including the local Warm Springs Nation boxers, will round out the undercard.

Doors open for boxing at 2 p.m., with the first bout set to start at 3. Tickets are priced at $10 for general admission and $25 for ringside. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

For information on Warm Springs Nation Boxing, call coach Austin Smith, 541-553-2798.

UAV: conference will include job fair

- Presentation of game changing technologies: Ground stations, collision avoidance, and new airframes.

There will also be demonstration flights, and presentations on new technologies for collision avoidance between UAS and traditional aircraft.

One of the test flights will involve a mock search and rescue on Mt. Jefferson.

The job fair is in the afternoon of the second day of the conference.

AUVSI has a membership of more than 7,500 individuals representing more than 2,700 organizations from over 60 countries.

The tribes and AUVSI are expecting a good turnout for the October forum, as unmanned aerial vehicle development is a fast growing industry, headed for major growth in coming years.

resort could be a major beneficiary of the UAV test-site program as it develops, Anspach said. The FAA is very supportive of the test-sites, Anspach said.

There is pressure on the FAA to establish standards of operation for UAVs, as other countries have overtaken the U.S. in UAV technology.
