Miss Warm Springs 2016 Keyana Yellowman

Keyana is planning to attend the University of Oregon after she graduates from high school. She plans to study linguistics.

Keyana has been around the Native languages for several years, as her grandmother and other older relatives are speakers.

Keyana is the fourtieth Miss Warm Springs, carrying on a tradition that began in 1915, when the tribes were celebrating the One-Hundred Year Anniversary of the Treaty of 1855. After the inaugural year in 1915, the Miss Warm Springs pageant held again in 1920, 1935, and 1960. At that time, every other year Dorothy ‘Dolly’ George was selected as Miss Warm Springs. Since then, the pageant has been held annually by exception.

Suzanne Shlockish McConville was Miss Warm Springs 2015, and presented the title to Keyana at the December 28th pageant.

Miss Warm Springs pageant is a cultural ambassador for the Confederated Tribes, and is a role model for the community. She speaks at public functions in the community, regionally and nationally.

She attends local events like the Lincoln’s Birthday Day and Pi Lima-Sha powwows, and participates in Museum at Warm Springs functions, other tribal enterprise gatherings, as well as national events that began in 1915, when census. Many of the titleholders compete annually in the Miss Indian World pageant.

BIA update on petition to change Constitution

Warm Springs BIA Agency Superintendent John Halliday met with Tribal Council this week, regarding the petition calling for a vote on tribal Constitutional amendments. Mr. Halliday said he would forward the petition signatures and proposed Constitutional changes to the BIA Regional office on Monday afternoon.

Regional Director Stan Spakes would then make a decision on the election by January 15. If Mr. Spakes determines the petition is valid, with enough signatures, then the BIA would conduct an election within 90 days from Jan 15.

The petition calls for a number of changes to the Tribal Constitution. Some of the proposed changes are relaxed, and would be voted on together. Proposed changes that would stand alone would be subject to separate ballots, Mr. Halliday said.

The idea, he said, is to avoid a situation where the election results create a contradiction.

The group that circulated the petition last year submitted a total of 2,150 signatures to the BIA. A minimum of about 1,485 signatures is necessary to call for the vote.

Ventures Council work on next phase

Tribal Council and Warm Springs Ventures are meeting this week to discuss the next steps in the cannabis production project.

One item on the agenda will be development of regulations that the tribes will implement in the operation of the facility. This will demonstrate that the tribes will meet or exceed state regulations that apply to non-tribal growing operations, said Don Sampson, Ventures chief executive officer. State and federal officials “are saying that if we can meet or exceed the state standards, then they are prepared to work with us,” Mr. Sampson said. “We intend to be transparent, and to work closely with the state and Department of Justice.”

Along with a meeting with Tribal Council, Ventures is also planning in January to meet with officials from the Department of Justice.

For PROJECT 1

Member comments needed on tribal logo

The Confederated Tribes of Warm Spring is in the process of updating the tribal logo, currently found at www.warmsprings.com. Those working on the project have also talked about the tribal logos and what it should be updated or changed.

The current tribal logo is used on a variety of things including the website, letterhead, business cards and printed materials like reports.

In some cases, branches have used the tribal logos on vehicles or signage, and the logo is often included on t-shirts for community events.

Over the years, the logo quality has decreased, and it is not used uniformly throughout the organization.

Through the process of developing the new logo, the tribal logos files are being separated into those of the Warmsprings, Yelmu and Yellowman countries, to name a few.

The logo will be also included in the new Warm Springs website. Now that no changes are being proposed to the tribal flag.

In December, Tribal Council reviewed two updated logos. Option 1 (above) reflects modifications to the original logo and a color change. A third version was presented that included three fisherman along the Columbia River. Tribal Council requested that the logo be changed to reflect one fisherman, which is now reflected in Option 3 (above center).

Tribal Council requested that the change to the tribal logos be taken to the people for feedback. Option 2 (above right) reflects the original tribal logos. Tribal members are being asked to review the three logos, and choose the one they like the most. The goal is to receive feedback back by January 24.

Following that date, feedback will be collated and presented to the Tribal Council for a final decision. To give your feedback online, go to bit.ly/1PGrTfD. If you need a paper version of this form, or for further inquiries, contact: alert@wtrbmes.org.

The options

To be eligible to participate, you must be 16 or over, a member of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, and submit your tribal ID number and voting district. All submissions will be verified.

Only one vote is allowable per tribal member, and can be cast online at the site above, or by paper form. Paper forms are also available at the management office or the tribal administration building. Please submit to the management office by the posted deadlines, January 24.

Here are the logos options and descriptions:

Option 1 – The current tribal logo contains three figures, representing the three tribes of the Confederated, the Warm Springs, Wawona and Pautun. Combined in the napes is blue lines, representing water (or rivers) and circles, representing the sun.

Option 2 – This logo is a modified “Dubla” design, which means that includes a new color palette and modifications within the napes. This logo includes “1855” as a reference to the 1855 Treaty with the Tribes of Middle Oregon which created the Warm Springs Indian Reservation.

Option 3 – This is a newly designed logo of a man fishing along the Columbia River. The logo connects the tribes to the Columbia River and your primary means of traditional subsistence, fishing. This logo includes “1855” as a reference to the 1855 Treaty with the Tribes of Middle Oregon which created the Warm Springs Indian Reservation.
Petition: election would amend Constitution

(Continued from page 1) The final number of signatures was determined by the BEA Regional Office will likely be somewhat lower than the total number submitted. This is because some of the same signatures appeared more than once on the petition sheets, some were not legible, and some were by minors. Some signs were also made by those of people who were deceased at the time.

Still, there appears to be enough signatures to meet the minimum of 1,260 votes as stated by Mr. Halliday said.

The signatures are illegible, but apparently these are valid, as the signature gathering was conducted according to the rules.

Some of the Tribal Council feel the illegible signatures should not be counted, as you cannot prove whether the person is really a tribal member.

The BIA’s Attorney, Andrew, though, indicates the signature gathering is enough, Halliday said.

Allowing the tribal membership to vote on the question, Councilman Kabeau Jackson said, but the integrity of the process is an important.

The protocol of non-tribal member signatures on the petition sheets would be an important, said, considering the proposal to change the Tribal Constitution. A signature process has exposed a similar feeling.

Councilman Scott Moss and Carlos Smith said the process needs to go forward, and the tribal membership can handle it.

Proposed changes

This is a summary of proposed changes to the Tribal Constitution, as presented on January 6.

Tribal Council would include nine members. Under the current Tribal Constitution, there are 11 Council members. Three of the 11 members are selected by the Chiefs, who serve for life.

Proposed amendment would make all of the Council positions subject to a term of years, with no life terms.

Under the proposal, the terms would be for three years, with the exception of some initial terms. As summarized:

- The chief among members will be numbered 1-9 based on a drawing of numbers 1-9. Numbers 1, 4 and 7 will be in the first election after three years; 2 and 5 will be in the second election the following year; 3, 6, and 9 will be in the third election, the following year. The council members will keep this number throughout the process annually.

So after the initial three-year period, there would be an election of nine new Council members each year, under the proposal.

Another proposal: The Council members would be selected in BEA secretarial elections by eligible, enrolled tribes. This would be an other significant change, as current Tribal Constitution’s amendments are conducted by tribal members.

Under the existing Tribal Constitution, three Council members are seated from the Simnasho and Agency districts, and two are elected from the Sckokomish District.

Under the proposed amendments, the Council members would be slotted by the membership at large, rather than by district.

Also among the proposed Tribal Constitutional amendments:

- The Tribal Council members would be compensated $25,000 for the entire election period. The council members would follow this number throughout the process annually.

As if the initial three-year period, there would be an election of nine new Council members each year, under the proposal.

Another proposal: The Council members would be selected in BEA secretarial elections by eligible, enrolled tribes. This would be another significant change, as current Tribal Constitution’s amendments are conducted by tribal members.

The Warm Springs Oregon State University Extension Unit would like to express our gratitude for the support from the Warm Springs Indian Head Casino during the Christmas holiday donation to the local Toy Drive.

Gifts from Indian Head

We would like to give a shout out to the Tishah Utilities Department, who made the facility available to us and responded quickly to calls of domestic related to necessary items. Thank you for being so responsive.

A note of gratitude to the Branch of Natural Resources for their generous donation of salmon to “Grade” Arlene properly. Over the years, this department has been instrumental in making sure the vision in Arlene’s head for a salmon to “fete” Arlene came to fruition.

We deeply appreciate the contribution made by Warm Springs Power and Water Enterprises to support the dinner. You made it possible to have a lovely, complete meal. Thank you for your generous donation.

Thank you also to Clint Jacks, former Extension Agent in Warm Springs, for selecting Arlene as the one to receive the contribution. Whether championing the children of the group home, or commanding the 4-H Culture Camp—an extension volunteer, and will be a 4-H Beginning Sewing Club in February. We are excited about our expanded partnership with COCC, the use of the COCC Computer Lab, classrooms for three sessions, and expanding registration to 24 participants, said Jolene Estimo Pitt, director of Warm Springs Vocational Rehabilitation.

Voc Rehab seeks partnerships with employers, “and we look forward to preparing our work force to be work ready this new year,” Jacks said.

We deeply appreciate the support. “We are excited about our winter holidays are past, and the kids are returning to school. So now there will be time for the grown ups to get involved in Reading programs.”

The Warm Springs Library Winter Reading program begins January 11, and runs through March 11. So clean off your reading glasses and start reading any books from A to Z. After you finish reading a book, then fill out a book review.

The warm and cozy this winter. Take your hearts content and stay warm and cozy this winter. Sincerely,

Cultural matter

The Native American Cultural Association of Oregon is a newly formed group helping Native American cultural groups in the state of Oregon. The organization launched the group to replace funding that was cut in the Lane Education District, which helped Native American title groups in Lane County.

This affects Springfield, Bethel, Eugene and Siuslaw (Florence) school districts, and puts their Native youth programs at risk.

The Native American Cultural Association of Oregon was originally the vision of Virgil Marrin, who ran the Springfield Indian Education Program at the Springfield School Board in the 1970s. Virgil was also the one who was able to bring the powerhouse on Springfield High School before his passing in 2012. Unfortunately, his passing slowed things to a crawl for a few years. With his passing, we are carrying on with his legacy.

We have been able to establish the network close to the level that Mr. Marrin envisioned before his passing. We now feel confident that we have a great group of people and resources to move forward with his vision.

The Native American Cultural Association of Oregon is currently fundraising funds to get registered with the state of Oregon and this we are trying to raise $5,300, the total cost to complete all filings and necessary Native American title groups in Lane County.

English Translation:

1. Grandfather Coyote and his grandson Rabbit lived along the Columbia River. Grandfather told his grandson, "Don't go too far, don't go near the water. If you don't obey, the water-monster will swallow you.

2. One day, grandson Rabbit went looking for arrowheads. He went too far, he went near the water. The water-monster swallowed him. Grandfather Coyote went looking for his grandson, he did not know where he went. He did not see him anywhere. Grandfather went too far near the water. The water-monster must have swallowed him.

3. He took a firewood and an arrowhead, then he went to the river. Grandfather called out, "Mon- ster! Monster!" Monster woke up and came out of his cave. The monster looked upriver and he looked downstream. Then he looked across the river and saw Grandfather Coyote at Wacap. Grandfather went near the water-monster, he let the water-monster swallow him.

4. It was very dark in the monster's stomach. In the monster's stomach, Grandfather made a fire. It became bright. He could now see his grand- son and the other people.

5. Grandfather told his grandson, "I still cut the monster's heart. The monster will die and breathe his last breath. When he opens his mouth to breathe, you all have run out!"

6. Coyote cut the monster's heart.

7. Taking his last breath, the monster opened his mouth. Coyote, grandson Rabbit, and the other people ran out.

8. Water-monster left the tip of grandson Rabbit's tail just as he closed his mouth. That is why rabbits have short tails.
A self-described militia group recently seized control of the Malheur National Wildlife Refuge in Harney County. This is traditional land of the Burns-Paiute Tribe. Members of the tribe are primarily descendants of the Wadatika band of northern Paiutes, who were hunter-gatherers traditionally living in Central and Southern Oregon. The Wadatika lived from the Cascade Mountains to Boise, Idaho, and from the Blue Mountains to Steens Mountain. The tribes’ federal trust land shrink from over one and a half million acres to a tiny remnant in Harney County.

The Jefferson County School District is looking at options to address projected overcrowding at elementary schools. The proposed model would change Buff Intermediate, Madras Primary and Metolius Elementary to K-thru-4 schools; and expand JCMS to 5 thru 8 grades. Informational meetings for parents and community members will be held on January 11 at Metolius Elementary and January 13 at Buff Intermediate, both at 6 pm.

The American Red Cross blood drive is coming up on January 20th between 1-6pm at the United Methodist Church in Madras. To schedule a time to donate, call 1-800-RED-CROSS or online at redcrossblood.org.
