1.2 Major Programming Decision Makers

Please report by gender and ethnic or racial group the headcount of full-time employees having responsibility for making major programming decisions. Include the station general manager if appropriate. Major programming decisions include decisions about program acquisition and production, program development, on-air program scheduling, etc. This item should result in a double-counting of some full-time employees; employees having the responsibility for making major programming decisions should be included in the counts for this item and again, by job category above, in the full-time employee Question 1.1.

Of the full-time employees reported in Question 1.1, how many, including the station general manager, have responsibility for making major programming decisions?

6.1 Telling Public Radio’s Story

The purpose of this section is to give you an opportunity to tell us and your community about the activities you have engaged in to address community needs by outlining key services provided, and the local value and impact of those services. Please report on activities that occurred in Fiscal Year 2020. Responses may be shared with Congress or the public. Grantees are required to post a copy of this report (Section 6 only) to their website no later than ten (10) days after the submission of the report to CPB. CPB recommends placing the report in an “About” or similar section on your website. This section had previously been optional. Response to this section of the SAS is now mandatory.

1. Describe your overall goals and approach to address identified community issues, needs, and interests through your station’s vital local services, such as multiplatform long and short-form content, digital and in-person engagement, education services, community information, partnership support, and other activities, and audiences you reached or new audiences you engaged.

During the COVID-19 pandemic we discovered the basics of what we could do with limited staffing by sharing the workload to ensure our overall goals and work was executed despite the disruption to staffing and the world around us.

Disseminating information across all our available platforms proved possible and effective in delivering education around the COVID-19 outbreak along with other needed content areas identified (mental health, education, etc).

2. Describe key initiatives and the variety of partners with whom you collaborated, including other public media outlets, community nonprofits, government agencies, educational institutions, the business community, teachers and parents, etc. This will illustrate the many ways you’re connected across the community and engaged with other important organizations in the area.
3. What impact did your key initiatives and partnerships have in your community? Describe any known measurable impact, such as increased awareness, learning or understanding about particular issues. Describe indicators of success, such as connecting people to needed resources or strengthening conversational ties across diverse neighborhoods. Did a partner see an increase in requests for related resources? Please include direct feedback from a partner(s) or from a person(s) served.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic there was very little opportunity to engage with community members in person. However we were willing and able to take advantage of opportunities to assist with many drive through events including face mask distributions early on in the pandemic.

KWSO’s also took the lead on distributing family Easter egg hunt items in a drive-through manner. Items had already been purchased when the pandemic canceled in-person events and so we were asked by our Tribal Health and Human Services branch to do a distribution in our parking lot following all...
1 During the COVID-19 pandemic we discovered the basics of what we could do with limited staffing by sharing the workload to ensure our overall goals and work was executed despite the disruption to staffing and the world around us.

Disseminating information across all our available platforms proved possible and effective in delivering education around the COVID-19 outbreak along with other needed content areas identified (mental health, education, etc).

Daily newscasts, public service campaigns & coronavirus updates each weekday morning were on the air, posted to our website and shared on social media. We consistently offered accurate information in a routine manner.

At the same time we continue to provide a variety of other local programming, features, public affairs, not altering our programming despite staff limitations. Our broadcast work is now also online and often multimedia in nature as a matter of routine. This year our web-based information became just as important as our on-air work and we have found that videos, web articles and social media graphics relay information as effectively as heavy rotation public service announcements, newscasts and public affairs programs.

2 A critical partnership in 2020 was with our local COVID-19 response team.

The team is made up of Indian Health Service leadership, Tribal Health and Human Services leadership, Tribal Public Relations staff, Tribal Public Safety and Emergency Managers.

The goal of the response team has been to report to the community on a daily best basis regarding the number of cases of COVID-19 and other pertinent information such as prevention strategies, testing information etc.
The relationship allowed KWSO’s to be the reliable, accurate and timely source of information daily.

The access to the latest information allowed us to offer relevant programming and information, minimizing misinformation within our community and that's what has made this partnership so valuable.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic there was very little opportunity to engage with community members in person. However we were willing and able to take advantage of opportunities to assist with many drive through events including face mask distributions early on in the pandemic, KWSO’s also took the lead on distributing family Easter egg hunt items in a drive-through manner. Items had already been purchased when the pandemic canceled in-person events and so we were asked by our Tribal Health and Human Services branch to do a distribution in our parking lot, following all COVID-19 safety protocols.

Additional drive through health fairs, school supply events and recognitions were events that KWSO participated in with a number of partners.

We were involved in our local K-8th school's teacher appreciation Drive Thru Event, and the 8th grade recognition parade of cars. Our school district's High School Graduation ceremony (a drive through event) was broadcast live on KWSO at the high school's request.

Initially families struggled with at home learning when schools shut down. Our Tribes' Culture and Heritage Department Language program was providing language lesson packets to students on a weekly basis. The feedback they got from families was that the lessons were valuable but some struggled with pronunciation. And so they approached KWSO’s to record the lessons.
We recorded them, ran them on the air as programs and incorporated them into additional programming. The lessons were also made available online.

We did conduct a survey at Drive Through Events in September. We learned that 88% of respondents listen to KWSO (of 130 people surveyed). We also learned that for 75% of those who connect with us online - do so on Facebook. 17% visit our website.

We also got a feel for how people were feeling by getting feedback on the "best thing about living in Warm Springs" and how the "COVID-19 pandemic has been for you." That informed our “community pride” messaging and also helped us implement some mental health content.

In a year where reliable, timely, information was so critical, KWSO’s CPB funding allowed us to continue to offer NPR news services to listeners.

We in fact found NPR news so valuable that we expanded from being a non-affiliate member to you becoming a full NPR member.

We are committed to continue do you provide our community with high-quality national news going forward. In addition to the latest on the COVID-19 pandemic, science, medicine, stories from the pandemic, it was also a huge year in politics.

With 2020 a presidential election year that included a huge amount of disinformation & misinformation - our ability to provide high-quality news to our community was satisfying.

We could not provide this service without our CPB CSG funding. In addition to the service provided play NPR, we continue to recognize our responsibility to do an equally good professional job with our local news.
7.1 Journalists

This section builds on the Census of Journalists conducted by CPB in the summer of 2010. These positions are the primary professional full-time, part-time or contract contributors to local journalism at your organization. The individuals in these positions will have had training in the standards and practices of fact-based news origination, verification, production and presentation. These are generally accepted titles for these positions but may not match position descriptions at your organization exactly. Please do your best to account for each professional journalist in your organization. Please do not count student or volunteer journalists.
